WRECK STATISTICS FOR 1894.

The statistical summary of vessels totally lost, condemned, &c., now published by Lloyd's Register, shows that, during 1894, the gross reduction in the effective mercantile marine of the world amounted to 1,154 vessels of 708,971 tons, excluding all vessels of less than 100 tons. Of this total, 281 vessels of 329,929 tons were steamers, and 873 of 379,042 tons were sailing vessels. These figures exceed the average of the preceding three years as regards steamers by 44 vessels of 52,000 tons. This excess is not due, however, to actual casualties, but to the unusual number of steamers which have been broken up, condemned, &c., during 1894. As regards sailing vessels, the present return is somewhat below the average of the preceding three years.

The summary exhibits interesting data as to the relative frequency of the different kinds of casualty, &c., which conclude the existence of vessels. Strandings and kindred casualties which are comprised under the term "wrecked," are much the most prolific cause of disaster. To such casualties are attributable no less than 42 per cent. of the losses of steamers, and 48 per cent. of the losses of sailing vessels. The next most frequent termination of a vessel's career is by condemnation, dismantling, &c.; 25½ per cent. of the steamers, and nearly 18 per cent. of the sailing vessels, removed from the merchant fleets of the world, are accounted for in this manner. Of the remaining causes of loss, collision is the most general for steamers (15 per cent.) and abandonment at sea for sailing vessels (12¼ per cent.). Cases of abandoned, foundered, and missing vessels may perhaps be regarded as frequently more or less similar in the circumstances of loss. If these be taken collectively, they comprehend 12 per cent. of the losses of steamers and nearly 24 per cent. of the losses of sailing vessels. The percentages here given are based on the present return alone, but the order of frequency of the several classes of casualty appears to be normal.

The return has been compiled by Lloyd's Register in such a manner as to enable a comparison to be made between the percentages of loss suffered by each of the principal merchant navies of the world. Great as the absolute annual loss of vessels belonging to the United Kingdom appears to be, it is seen to form a very moderate percentage of the mercantile marine of the country, and to compare favourably with the losses sustained by other leading maritime countries. The merchant navies which exceed a total of 1,000,000 tons are those of the United Kingdom, the British Colonies, the United States of America, France, Germany, and Norway. Of these countries, the United Kingdom shows the smallest percentage of loss, viz.: 2·8 per cent. of the vessels, and 2·2 per cent. of the tonnage, owned; France follows with 3·9 per cent. of vessels and 2·6 per cent. of tonnage; and Norway is the highest with 6·4 per cent. of vessels and 6 per cent. of tonnage. As regards steamers, the average percentage of loss for the six countries is 2·3, while the percentage for the United Kingdom stands at 2·33. For sailing vessels, the six countries give an average percentage of 5·5 as compared with 3·9 per cent. for the United Kingdom.

Apart from questions of navigation, it is no doubt the cases of abandoned, foundered, and missing vessels which afford most scope for investigation and conjecture as to whether the ultimate causes of loss were unavoidable. It is a satisfactory feature of this and similar previous returns of Lloyd's Register that they show, for vessels owned in the United Kingdom, a steady reduction in this class of casualty. In 1891, 73 United Kingdom vessels were shown as abandoned, foundered, or missing; in 1892, 68 vessels; in 1893, 62 vessels; and in 1894 the number has fallen to 47.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

OF

VESSELS OF ALL NATIONS,

OF 100 TONS AND UPWARDS,

TOTALLY LOST, CONDEMNED, &c.,

DURING THE YEAR

1894.

---

NOTE:—This Summary is based upon the quarterly returns of total losses, &c., which have been published by Lloyd's Register. It includes, however, vessels which had not been given up as total losses, or of the loss of which information had not been received, when the returns for the quarters in which they respectively occurred were compiled. On the other hand, a few vessels which, being definitely considered as total losses at the respective dates of compilation, were included in the quarterly returns, have since been floated, repaired, &c., and are accordingly now excluded from the statistics given herein. Particulars of all such additions to, and deductions from, the quarterly returns are given on pages 5 to 8.

A distinguishing feature of the Wreck Returns published by Lloyd's Register is that, except as stated in the footnotes to Table No. 1, they are compiled strictly according to the dates at which the casualties resulting in total loss actually occurred, and not according to the dates at which reports of casualties were received.

(Vessels under 100 tons gross are not included in this return.)
